Then, officials said, there is less "easy money" from liquor sales because there's less real liquor.
"Go where you will and you will find it almost impossible to get good old whiskey." Commissioner Kramer said confidently. Bootleggers simply are being shut off from the supplies they formerly tapped." Kramer's reports, however, showed rum handlers are cleverly sub-stituting all sorts of alcoholic concoctions, but their wares do not appeal to the fancy trade formerly Fierce Fight Follows Attempt to Take $67,000 Oil Co. Payroll Near Tampico.

HOUSTON, Tex., April 29 .- In the ploodiest payroll hold-up in the history of the oil fields of Mexico a band of fifteen Mexican bandits held up officials of the Agwi Oil Company and obtained approximately 135,000 pesos in Mexican gold (about $67,000), near Tampico, April 21, according to delayed advices reaching Houston. Ten persons were killed, including two bandits, in the fighting that accompanied the hold-up.

The Agwi Oil Company is a British concern. The money had been taken from the vaults of the company at Tampico on the morning of the hold-up and transferred to an automobile across the Panaco river for transporting to the southern fields.

At a point three kilometers from Oldtown, Tampico, the payroll car-riers encountered a wagon blocking the road. While the obstruction vas being removed the bandits opened fire from ambush. Trinidad Davalos, five soldiers, two chauffeurs and two bandits were kill-ed in the engagement, while Paymas-ter Davalos, one soldier and two bandits were wounded. The bandits es-caped to the nearby hills with the
